Fesler Selected To Head Hatchet For New Term

Madigan, Potter and Vivian Comprise Balance of
New Board

C. Manley Fesler, a junior in Columbian College, has been officially approved by the publications committee as editor of The University Hatchet for the year 1932-33, following recommendation by the retiring board of editors, and takes office with this issue. Lester M. Gates will continue as business manager for another year.

Fesler's board of associate editors will be composed of John T. Madigan, Gordon V. Potter and John T. Vivian. All of the newly elected board members were recently initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, at the recent convention here, and Madigan is president of the local chapter.

Fesler, the new editor, is completing two and a half years of work on The Hatchet. He made his start on the 1930 Summer Hatchet in the features department and successfully enjoyed the rank of junior reporter, senior reporter, assistant editor, and associate editor, the latter position being held during the entire year 1931-32. He is also publicity director of the Cherry Tree.

In other extra-curricular activities, Fesler has enjoyed wide prominence, thus fitting him remarkably for the edi-

Oratorical Contest Preliminaries Start

Students From Every Washington University Urged to Participate

A District of Columbia elimination contest, which is a preliminary of the National Oratorical Contest sponsored by the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, will be held in Stockton Hall, Room 10, Monday, May 23, at 8 p. m. Students of American, Catholic, Georgetown, George Washington Universities, and Trinity College are eligible.

The winner will represent the District in a regional contest to be held at Charlottesville, Virginia, the latter part of the month. Moreover, a silver medal will be awarded to the contestant receiving first place, a bronze medal and certificate of merit to the winner of second and third places, respectively. Two medals will be awarded in the regional contest, also. The winner of the national contest, to be held next fall in Washington, will receive a George Washington commemorative medal in gold.

A list of topics for these speeches may be obtained from Professors Bennett or Yeager, or the Educational Committee in charge of the contest. The addresses must be original, confined to the selected topics and must not exceed twelve minutes in length.

Co-ed Average Tops Sorority Scholarship

Non-sorority Women Brighter; Phi
Sigma Sigma Heads List

Non-sorority women as a group stand higher scholastically than sorority women, according to first semester ratings announced by the registrar's office last week. The quality point index for all non-sorority women is 2.6, which is also higher than the general average of all University students. Phi Sigma Sigma heads the list of sororities with an index of 2.86.

Alpha Epsilon Phi is second on the sorority list, and Alpha Delta Theta, which has the highest scholastic rating in Pan-Hellenic, is third among all the social sororities.

The complete list of scholastic ratings is:

All non-sorority	2.60
All women	2.58
All sorority	2.47
All students	2.27
Phi Sigma Sigma	2.86
Alpha Epsilon Phi	2.80
Alpha Delta Theta	2.62
Sigma Kappa	2.61
Phi Mu	2.54
Delta Zeta	2.49
Kappa Delta	2.48
Alpha Delta Phi	2.45
Zeta Tau Alpha	2.42
Pi Beta Phi	2.36
Kappa Kappa Gamma	2.34
Chi Omega	2.24
Phi Delta	2.13

Annual Hour Glass Initiation Calls Nine Outstanding Women

Banquet Will Feature Ceremony to Be Held at Kennedy-
Warren Friday

Hour Glass Honor Society will hold its annual initiation ceremony and banquet at the Kennedy-Warren, Friday evening, May 20, at which time Louise Berryman, Edith Brookhart, Ruth DeVane, Evelyn Eller, Cecile Harrington, Louise James, Ruth Molyneux, Pauline Schaub, and Kathleen Watkins will be received as members. Officers for the next year will be elected.

Guests at the banquet will include officers and members of the Hour Glass Alumni Association; members of Mortar Board, national honorary activities society, residing in Washington; and the Student Council of the University.

Hour Glass is an organization formed to promote interest in extra-curricular activities by recognition of women prominent in this field. Outstanding ability and fulfillment of scholastic requirements were the criteria for the selection of these women.

Berryman Headed Panel
Louise Berryman has been active in varsity and intramural athletics, and was for four years a member of the W. A. A. She served as president of the Panhellenic Council during the past year, and is a charter member of Sigma Delta Phi, honorary speech arts society. A leading part in "Happy Landings," the Troubadour production

Speakers' Congress In Favor of Politics

Party Line-ups Advocated for Student Council Elections

A vote in favor of political parties at George Washington was the result of the debate at the Speakers' Congress meeting, May 9. The proposition was: "Resolved: That political parties should be organized for elections to the Student Council."

The highlight of the meeting was Dewitt Bennett's speech delivered in the open forum. Bennett's satirical statement that we need political parties so that we will have better organized and bigger graft on our campus completely upset the order of the audience.

In the formal debate Charles Bell maintained the affirmative, concluding that political parties would increase interest in the elections because of better organization of the student body as a whole, and in the resulting party competition. He added that the party system would result in a concrete platform, constructive and practical for the whole University.

Fred Jess, of the opposition, attacked the contentions of Bell on the grounds that the formation and maintenance of political parties, with the red tape that goes with them, would require too much of the students' time. He further held that political parties would lead to the formation of a political ring.

Home Economics Association To Give Benefit Card Party

The first benefit lawn card party sponsored by the George Washington Home Economics Club will be given in the yard in the rear of Building C on Wednesday evening, May 25, at 7:30 p. m.

Plan Pilgrimage To W. & L. For First Grid Battle

Gate and Key Will Sponsor
Student Trip on Sept.
24 to Lexington

Gate and Key, honorary interfraternity society, is planning an elaborate pilgrimage to Washington and Lee University next fall when the Colonials will encounter the Generals in the opener of the 1932 gridiron schedule on September 24.

Negotiations are now underway with bus companies and several railroads to obtain the best rates so all students will be able to make the trip.

Washington and Lee, which is located at Lexington, Virginia, is 192 miles from Washington. One bus company wants $160 guarantee for a one-day trip and $170 for two days. The other quotes $155 and $165 respectively. This amounts to $6.25 a person in a 29-passenger bus for the one-day trip and $7 in the second.

To date negotiations for rates by rail are not yet completed. The Chesapeake & Ohio will make rates of $6.80 per person per round trip, which is by way of their regular service. If the student body turns out 125 people or over, a special rate will be made and a special train furnished. Then the rates will probably be $5.00 or less. Owing to the long distance, students desiring to make the trip should designate whether they desire overnight accommodations so that special rates may be made with hotels, restaurants, etc.

Louis Malkus, director of the University Band, states that the band will

Men's Debate Team Broadcasts by Radio

Contest with University of Virginia at Richmond Closes
Season

In a broadcast over station WEVA, Richmond, the University men's debate team closed its season, Friday, May 13, in a debate with the University of Virginia team. The question was: "Resolved: That the British system of radio control be adopted in this country."

Dewitt Bennett, Wilburn West, and Phillip Merryman upheld the negative side for George Washington. The choice of this particular subject for the debate was suggested by a bill now under discussion in Congress, providing for more time on the air for non-commercial matters. Prominent educators throughout the country have organized for this same purpose and have already secured more time on the radio for popular lectures in economics and psychology.

The present British system requires that radio be government controlled through one company ownership; that there be two stations only, and that all programs must be approved by the government before they are broadcast. Everyone is taxed for radio ownership.

In upholding the negative side, the George Washington team maintained that under our present system, we are making rapid strides in educational radio programs already; second, that our system encourages free speech because the government does not interfere as in Great Britain, where Mahatma Gandhi was not allowed to broadcast recently; and third, that it is very valuable commercially.

An unusual feature marked the delivery of this debate. Bennett and West gave the constructive speeches against two of the University of Virginia men, while Merryman alone handled the one rebuttal against the remaining Virginia man.

The debate was arranged by the University of Virginia and took place over the NBC network.

Pi Gamma Mu Issues Bids

To Social Science Students
Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, has issued bids during the past week to seniors and juniors outstanding in the social studies during the past week, according to Frank H. Weitzel, president.

The names are being withheld pending arrangements for the initiation ceremony which will be held some time prior to June 1.

Dr. George Morton Churchill and Professor Elmer Louis Kayser were recently initiated into the George Washington chapter and other prominent faculty members are also affiliated with the local chapter.

Will Publish Yearbook

Ralph R. McCoy who was last week elected chairman of the board of editors of the 1933 Cherry Tree.

Board of Yearbook Designates McCoy New Annual Editor

Bain Retains Office; Brook-
hart, Everett, Niess, Walstrom
Are Elected Associates

Ralph R. McCoy was unanimously elected editor and Wendell H. Bain unanimously re-elected business manager of the 1933 Cherry Tree, University annual, at a meeting of the retiring editor and board of editors held last week.

McCoy's editorial associates will be Edith Brookhart, John Everett, Dorothy Niess and John H. Walstrom, all of whom have experienced long service on the yearbook staff.

The new editor is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, and of Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity. He served in 1931 as fraternity editor of the Cherry Tree and during 1932 as organization editor and member of the board of editors.

Bain, the business manager, has been on the business staff for three years. He is a member of Theta Upsilon Omega, Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon, Gate and Key and the Interfraternity Council.

Edith Brookhart, who will be classes editor of the 1933 yearbook, has served as assistant women's sports editor of the 1932 Cherry Tree. John Everett, the new sports editor, has recently completed his duties as assistant sports editor. He is also a senior reporter in the sports department of The Hatchet.

Dorothy Niess, who will handle the copy for the 1933 annual, has been a member of the copy staff for two years. John Walstrom, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon and reporter for The Hatchet, will be in charge of organizations in the 1933 Cherry Tree.

School of Pharmacy Exhibits Field Work

Window Display Series Conducted by Instructor R. S. Smith

The first of a series of weekly window displays to be shown under the direction of Mr. R. S. Smith, instructor in the School of Pharmacy, is this week at the Service Pharmacy at 1100 Fourteenth street, N. W. These exhibits are a part of the field work of the sophomore class in pharmacognosy and all materials shown are obtained from the drug garden of the School of Pharmacy located on the Arlington Experimental Farm of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Drug specimens being shown this week include belladonna, fennel and cascara sagrada. A living belladonna plant is being shown in addition to the prepared fluid extract and atropine. Fennel, also a medicinal plant, is shown as the source of oil of fennel, the familiar flavoring element of popular chewing gum.

The display of next week will be placed in a drug store in the 2000 block of Pennsylvania avenue, N. W.

Delta Phi Epsilon Inducts New Fraternity Members

Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity, held initiation and election of officers at the meeting Monday night May 15, at the Phi Sigma Kappa house. The fraternity will close a very successful season under the leadership of Caldwell Kendrick, with a banquet at the Kennedy Warren, on May 22. This will be a celebration for the initiates, George Wenzl, Edward Crouch, Arthur Romblit, and John Walstrom.

195 Students Make Annual Honor Roll On Revised Basis

New System Derives Average
on Total Grades Made Since Entrance

Complete scholastic records of students are to be taken as the basis for awarding positions on the Honor Roll of the University, beginning with the roll of February, 1932. All the grades that a student has received since entering George Washington must average to the scholarship index required by the school in which he is registered. The list of those on the first Honor Roll under the new system, for the first semester of 1931-32, follows:

The Junior College (minimum of fifteen semester hours, exclusive of Physical Education, and a scholarship

Sphinx Bids Three Women Celebrities

Mildred Omwake, Elizabeth
Churchill, Martha Osborne
Elected Members

Sphinx, women's senior honor society, recently bid Mildred Omwake, Elizabeth Churchill, and Martha Osborne to membership. Election is based on exceptional scholarship, character, and personality. Membership is limited to seven.

Mildred Omwake is a member of Alpha Pi Epsilon, home economics fraternity, and the Home Economics Club. She is in Junior College and has a quality point average of 3.52.

Elizabeth Churchill has an average of 3.36. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic fraternity, and is president-elect of the History Club. Her social sorority is Phi Delta. She is registered in Columbian College.

Martha Osborne holds a Columbian Women Scholarship. She is a member of Orchestria, natural dancing club, and has served on the W. A. A. Board. Her average is 3.32.

Scholarship Trophy Given Sigma Kappa

Junior Panhellenic Council Awards Cup for Work of Pledges

Sigma Kappa was presented with a silver cup awarded by the Junior Panhellenic Council to the sorority whose pledges had the highest scholastic average last semester, at a tea given in the Alpha Delta Pi rooms, Wednesday, May 11, from four to six.

Pledges of the sororities, together with the pledge mistresses and scholarship chairmen of the active chapters, attended, and saw the cup presented by Betty Coon, president of the council, to Jane Hughes, Sigma Kappa delegate to the council.

Winning with an average of 2.54, the Sigma Kappa pledges achieved first place by a margin of .06 over Phi Mu, whose average was 2.48. Kappa Delta was third with an average of 2.46.

Proceeds from the card party given last March provided for the purchase of the cup and for the presentation tea.

"The Man, Shakespeare," To Furnish Topic of Talk

A talk on "The Man, Shakespeare," will feature the next regular meeting of The Shakespeare Society Thursday evening, May 19, at 7:30, in Corcoran Hall 15. Contrasted with the ever-growing acquaintance with Shakespeare's works, it is felt that this little-known subject should appeal to the interests of anyone who desires to attend the meeting.

Business will be taken up after the topical discussion, and all members of the club are urged to be present. This will be the last meeting this year.

Final plans have been perfected for the annual concert and dance to be sponsored at the Willard Hotel on Tuesday evening, May 24, by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of the University. This event will bring to a climax a very active program of these organizations and music lovers of Washington are anxiously looking forward to the repertoire of favorite pieces, both classical and popular, which they will render.

President Cloyd Heck Marvin and Mrs. Marvin, the deans and directors of the several schools and their wives, as well as numerous people prominent in musical Washington will be patrons for the concert. President and Mrs. Marvin will attend.

Several fraternities and sororities have subscribed to boxes and others will subscribe before the opening of the concert. Tickets will cost $1 per person both for box seat holders and general admission, and they are now available either at the bursar's office, Twenty-first and G streets, N. W., or at the Willard Hotel.

Dr. Robert H. Harmon, director of the Men's Glee Club, announces that the concert will begin at 8:45 p. m. and will continue until 10:30 when dancing will be started with Leon Brusiloff's "Music Masters" furnishing the music.

Among the numbers to be sung from the programs of both the current year and of last year will be "Going Home" from the New World Symphony, by Dvorak; "A Czech-Slovakian Dance Song," arranged by Kabalechek; "Kamnoi Ostrov" by Rubinstein and the Crusader's Hymn by Christiansen. These will be rendered by the combined glee clubs.

Among the highlights on the program of the Men's Glee Club will be: "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Indulge Jubilo," "Send Out Thy Light," "The Long Day Closes," and "Hand Organ Man," and several Brahms numbers.

The Women's Glee Club will sing "Cradle Song," "In Wood Empowered by Brahms," and "Strike It Up, Taber," and that old English favorite, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

The Women's Glee Club will furnish the piano accompaniment in the person of Adele Meriam. Robert W. Cushman, baritone soloist, will represent the Men's Glee Club.

One of the features planned is that of having the glee club of 1926 present. They will attend en masse and will sing one of the old George Washington songs.

Another feature is the Fox Theater act of last year. At some time during the evening the dancing will be interrupted and the cast of the troupe which staged that act a year ago will present it to the accompaniment of Leon Brusiloff's orchestra, the same orchestra which played with them at the Fox. Among their numbers will be "Oh Man River," "The Pilgrim's Chorus," and Brahms' "Lullaby."

Commerce Fraternity Plans Honor Banquet

Racquet Club Function Marks Close of Successful Year

The semester's activities of the Commerce and Economics Professional Fraternity will close with a banquet in honor of recent pledges, to be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, May 21, at the Racquet Club. Dr. Douglas Taylor, president of the group, announced yesterday. George P. Barre, chief general counsel, office of the Controller of the Currency, will speak.

The following men, pledged to the fraternity at a recent meeting, will be received at the banquet Saturday: H. Spencer May, John R. Hagenback, David Brining, J. Donald Earl, Edward J. Robertson, and Bruce M. Fowler. Members of the economics faculty of the University have been invited to attend. A novel program has been arranged by a committee including the following members: Richard Maycock, Lawrence Parker, Richard C. Marks, Fred Joiner, and E. C. Wilkie.

Engineering Society Elects Officers; Handbook Awarded

Professor Max A. Lett was chosen honorary chairman, Herbert Thom, chairman, James F. Blouse, vice chairman, and Herman Miller, secretary-treasurer, at A. S. M. E. election held Wednesday, May 11.

A Marx Engineering Handbook donated by Professor Walter B. Lawrence is to be awarded to the student who presented the best paper on an engineering subject was awarded to Herbert Thom for his paper on current meters.

Changes

With the election of a new editor and a board of associate editors come changes in the policy of the administration of The Hatchet. The newest editor and his board are contemplating revisions in the editorial and news policies, and in the make-up of the paper that are expected to further the reputation of The Hatchet as a college newspaper.

The organization of the reportorial staffs is to be completely revised as well as the system of department editors. The general make-up of the whole paper will be brightened by the use of more pictures and larger headlines, the news will be such in the truest sense of the word, and the phase of "timeliness" as applied to news will be given more consideration than in past years.

However, the most important change, that is not merely contemplated, but already is an established criterion, is the more aggressive editorial policy. During the next college year The Hatchet will not quibble on points of disagreement that are bound to arise in the complexity of university life. There will be no "heating about the bush." The Hatchet will take a stand and speaking colloquially, "will stick by it."

In brief, the editor and the new board will endeavor to make The Hatchet more of a newspaper and less an activity.

The Honor Roll

Elsewhere in this issue of The Hatchet appears a list of the names of 195 students whose outstanding scholastic work in their respective schools entitles them to a position on the Honor Roll of the University for the semester ended in February. The records of these students are enviable. They are particularly so in view of the fact that the quality point average is based upon all work completed in the University.

Approximately 4 per cent of the student body seem to do work of the above mentioned quality. Such a percentage just about conforms to the normal distribution curve and may be taken as an indication that George Washington students comprise an average group which is what we might expect. The interesting thing for us to observe is the shifting or lack of shifting, which takes place in the shuffle for a place on the Honor Roll. Our guess would be that the same people tend to occupy the coveted positions semester after semester. And it is in this connection that we would question the sagacity of such high requirements for eligibility. Undoubtedly the upper end of the distribution curve does not include, even comparatively, as much change as does a section with a little lower limit. And we believe that, if the object of the Honor Roll is in any part intended to be inspirational, the effect would be more far reaching and better suited to the motive if more people were allowed to achieve the distinction of its accomplishment. Certainly it would tend to reward effort as well as high I. Q. And that, we hold, is the object of such a citation.

CHIPS

Sweet zephyrs blow! 'Tis life's new bloom now that all the world's aglow with spring. . . It's about time, in Rollo's estimation, for people to do something after wearing out a pair of gum shoes slopping about hither and yon last week waiting and waiting for people to do something to write about. . . Acting Dean "Papa" French acquired himself a little pink ticket this week informing him that parking his Packard double on G street is not like letting it stand in one of them Aurora Hill lanes. Officer, you're a viper! . . . Dance! Muy mucho! The Kappa dance, given by the Chi O's, was sure a fine affair, and incidentally gave card sharks a new angle for their game. Remember those pass out checks . . . Touchton is sure going to have to step to keep up with the confections of that Yeamans-Linville pair if that Saturday night performance was a regular act. You're just a bit highschoolish, Charlie my boy. . . The T.U.O. BULL-stin, issued for rushing purposes at the dance, fell through when the boys wanted money in advance. . . The Phi Theta Xi engineering boys go with plenty of outside girls, as is easily seen by the majority of women who appeared in evening dress Saturday night. No co-ed ever dons that legal immorality known as an evening gown for Corcoran Hall functions. Tut, tut—that's no way to gain prominence. . . Popularity Contest Hangovers—As a sweet expression of Panhellenic spirit, the Chi O's presented the Queen with a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Phi Sig will give Sigma Nu a potted lily next year if they win the baseball cup. . . B.H. Hanback offers his services to any mother desiring a guardian angel for her daughter at fraternity dances to keep nasty undesirable from dancing with her. . . Another new eye editor with a staff that looks like a plague struck it. There are so many bosses around here lately that it looks as if we will have to conscript members of the faculty to do the work. . . Will the Student Council please elect a president quick so the A. D. P.'s can get down to studying. . . Talk about studying, Rollo offers that finals schedule published last week as a contribution to the Great American Olympics. . . Odell Long, college playboy, can't convince Assistant Professor Landree that he is not a child anymore and didn't have a thing to do with tipping Bell's chair over and depositing him on the floor in History quiz last week. . . These contest dark horses lose the limelight to Ted Rinehart who, it is rumored, may start a belated drive in Jenners' food consuming contest. . . On the heels of our Carnival comes the circus, which doesn't stand much of a chance after the Student Council show. However, we expect to see lots of G. W.-ites there drinking pink lemonade and munching peanuts. . . Circuses remind us that the girls are getting on a riding show next week. That's why all the coeds have been strolling around in riding breeches, and, incidentally, Janet so entranced one male with her outfit that she drew an invite to his fraternity dance. . . The moguls of the Publications Department get his hearted and throw a dinner dance at the Shoreham tomorrow night. Only the ranking members of The Hatchet and Cherry Tree Staffs (which does not include Dick Rollo) have been invited, so it promises to be a most exclusive affair. From a glance at the lineup, somebody had a hard time arranging dates. . . The best alibi so far this year may be attributed to Gordon Potter, who failed to get a young lady home in time for her date because "the wires got wet." . . The Sigma Kappa's are coming right in the world. Their pledges copped the scholarship cup awarded by the Junior Panhellenic Council, and Ted Clary has ensnared another Phi Sig. . . One prof certainly drew a rising vote of thanks from a number of seniors in his class when he announced that those seniors having A averages would not have to take the final. Oh that some of these other profs would get big hearted! . . . We hear that the freshmen women are to be addressed on "The Value of Extra Curricular Activities." If the little darlings want to graduate, they'd better stay out of them altogether, for they sure do take up a lot of time. . . Well, guess we'd better be signing off for this time even as Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees, for Rollo must arise with the dawn to get a free look at the gee-raffes. . . Wishing you a little cheer and pleasant dreams. . . Au revoir.

DICK ROLLO.

Senior Class Officers Plan To Promote Endowment Fund

Senior class officers are this week planning to promote the Graduate Endowment Fund among members of the Class of 1932. Between now and Commencement each senior will be given an opportunity to make a pledge to the fund.

Under the leadership of Charles H. Jackson, Jr., senior president, committees will be selected from each school of the University to carry out the work of interviewing the graduates.

The Graduate Endowment Fund, established by the Class of 1926, offers to each graduate an opportunity to share in the development of the University. It stands as a pledge on the part of succeeding graduating classes of their belief in George Washington. It is a project initiated by the student body and having the full support, expressed in formally adopted resolutions, of the leading student organization. As such, it is deserving of student support.

The fund already has reached substantial proportions, $26,575 having been pledged to date. It will be of increasing significance as the years pass, not only because of the financial assistance that it will afford, but as evidence of the loyalty and confidence which its alumni place in the George Washington University.

WHO'S WHO ON THE CAMPUS

ELIZABETH REES

Graduation next month will take from the University a young woman who has spent a very busy four years earning her degree from Columbian College in Political Science and winning countless honors in extra-curricular activities.

The young woman is Elizabeth Rees, but it is as Betty Rees that she has come to be widely known. Hence, Betty she shall be for the remainder of this review of her activities in the George Washington University.

The year 1931-32 has been a busy one for Betty. Not only has she served the students in Columbian College as one of their representatives in the Student Council and as a member of the Student Life Committee, which cooperates with the Administration in governing student activities, but she has been an associate editor of the Cherry Tree in charge of copy, a position she attained after three years of work.

Earlier in her undergraduate career The Hatchet claimed her efforts for a while and she acted as service manager in 1930 and as a reporter on the 1931 Summer Hatchet.

As a member of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority Betty was its representative on the Panhellenic Council for two years and was honored by election to Delphi, honorary intersorority society.

Her varied field of activities has also included membership in the Baptist Student Union, the Modern Poetry Club, and Gamma Eta Zeta, women's honorary journalistic fraternity. Betty has been secretary of the Poetry Club this year.

Sigma Nu Defeats Kappa Sigma For Title in League B

Delta Tau Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa to Settle League A Race Next Week

By JOHN EVERETT

By trouncing the previously unbeaten Kappa Sigma nine, 7-2, in the Interfraternity Baseball Series, Sigma Nu clinched the championship of League B. Delta Tau Delta and Phi Sigma Kappa advanced to the finals of League A by virtue of victories over Sigma Chi and Theta Delta Chi, respectively. Acacia had little trouble with T. U. O. and S. A. E. beat S. P. E. Kappa Alpha and Sigma Mu Sigma postponed their game.

The Delta and Phi Sig teams still remain unbeaten in their league, with a game next week to decide the honors in their league.

A pitcher's battle ensued in the Sigma Nu-Kappa Sig game with Ed Crouch receiving better support than his luckless opponent on the mound, Ray Elliott. Five scoreless frames were broken when the snakes sneaked a tally across in the sixth frame as Preston dropped a third strike on Weaver. Preston's double, scoring Thuney from first, and a wild throw, allowing him to tally, were the losers' only scores of the game. Weisbrod, after striking out in his first two appearances at the plate, slammed a double to start a rally by the Sigma Nus opening the seventh inning. Hits by Turpin, Sherwood, and Stearns together with a wild throw by Stauble were responsible for six runs. Due to lack of playing time Kappa Sigma waived its rights to bat in the ending of the seventh, thus giving the Sigma Nus a hard-earned victory.

Score by innings:
S. N. 0 0 0 0 1 6-7
K. S. 0 0 0 0 2 x-2
Batteries: (S. N.) Crouch and Weaver; (K. S.) Elliott and Preston.

Getting off to an early start by scoring four markers in the first inning, Delta Tau Delta had an easy time winning 9-1 behind Bill Pates' airtight hurling. The result is evident by the fact that the winners garnered 12 hits while the Sigs could get but two. Johnny Fenlon again led the hitting, getting a homer, triple, and single in

Intramural Sports

Start Semi-Finals

Games Halted by Rain in Both Tennis and Golf Schedules

All matches scheduled in intramural sports tournaments last week were postponed because of rain. The events will be completed this week, weather permitting.

In the tennis tourney, six men, Barbers, Baldwin, Eugenio, Jones, Smith, and Vettori, have advanced to the quarter-finals in singles. Jones and Baldwin are slated to meet the winners of a match between the teams of Bennett-Stanton and Smith-Simon, to decide the doubles title.

Kolb and McKee have reached the semi-final stage in the golf competition, while Albert and Hickman are semi-finalists in the horseshoe tournament.

Student Tour Starts July 2 on Britannica

Reservations Should Be Made Now to Insure Good Cabins

Only a few days remain in which to register for the University Tour, which is to start July 2. Reservations on the "Britannica" should be made as soon as possible to insure comfortable choice of cabins.

This tour is given to the student for $248 and includes visits to England, Holland, Belgium and France. Four days will be spent in London and five days will be spent in Paris.

The "Britannica" leaves New York on July 2, arriving in Liverpool July 9. On July 25, the "Adriatic" leaves Liverpool to reach New York August 2, ending the trip.

Among those planning to make the tour are Louise Berryman, Helene McLachlen, Dorothy Smith, Marie Seegrist and Fred Joss. Any others who are interested are urged to see Miss Dorothy Dickerman immediately in the Lambie House.

Modern Poetry Club to Give Books to University Library

Two books of poetry are to be presented to the University Library by the Modern Poetry Club. One of the volumes is by Robert Frost and the other by Robinson Jeffers.

The following officers were elected by the club for the coming year: Anne Burger, president; Jean Kirkwood, vice president; Betty Jacobs, secretary-treasurer.

At the next meeting, to be held Wednesday, Professor Courtland Baker, faculty adviser of the club, is to be speaker.

A professor at McGill University would rather look through a microscope at some kind of tiny animal or bug than attend a movie, although he did like Mary Pickford when she was in her early glory.

Women's Tennis Doubles

Tournament Nears Close

Sixteen teams are participating in the women's tennis doubles tournament which is nearing an exciting close this week. The second round of the contest has been finished and the semi-finals are now being played off.

The victors will be presented with the Columbian Women's tennis cup given annually to the winning team of this tournament.

The four teams which have reached the semi-finals are, Marion Butler and Marion Detwiler; Jessie Hardin and Catherine Stanton; Helen Chafee and Judith Fishburn; Pat May and Martha Myers.

Yeager Defeats West; Tillema Vanquishes Nessell in First Round; Eight More to Play

Horseshoe pitching among the members of the faculty has progressed to the half-way mark in the first round with the pros throwing the shoes on a specially provided court in the rear of the Fine Arts building. Twelve teachers replied to the first call for the tournament issued by Max Farrington.

Professor William Hayes Yeager defeated Dr. Warren Reed West in the initial tilt of the tourney while Dr. John Albert Tillema killed Fred E. Nessell's chances of advancing further.

The following faculty members are paired for first round competition: Weide vs. Merry, Johnson vs. Cruickshanks, Van Evers vs. Buchanan, Lee vs. Smith.

A professor at Northwestern claims that the ceds write out answers to questions on small pieces of paper which they place under their fish-net stockings. During exams, they read the answers through the holes.

Present Week Set By Women Athletes For Spring Sports

Interclass Baseball, Tennis, and Riding Among Interesting Events

George Washington's women athletes are now giving their annual spring sports week. This is the occasion for a great deal of interclass spirit, stiff muscles, and the display of the latest in riding habits, and not to be outdone by the equestrians, the baseball players will show what's newest in vividly colored uniforms.

Attracted by the possibility of winning the Columbian Women's cup, or by the free ride, not a few have signed up for the horse show. The exceptionally large number of amateurs participating promises amusing entertainment as well as tense excitement. This leads one to suspect that there will be more entering the mounting and the dismounting event.

Freshmen tennis players are expected to give the upper classmen such competition as might endanger the prestige of their elders. The doubles combinations are working hard on their strokes, however, and the matches are sure to be closely contested throughout.

In archery the beginners are being exclusive and conducting a tournament of their own. The more experienced archers will endeavor to put George Washington on the map by winning the Women's Intercollegiate Telegraphic tournament.

The baseball nines, picked from the large number of would-be "big-leaguers" out for this sport, have worked out some most surprising systems, and the class games scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday at 1 p. m. promise to reveal the newest and best in America's favorite sport.

The Washington parks are the scenes of these athletic festivities. Horsewomen will grace the Wardman riding ring, and the golfers will play the Potomac course.

Tennis Tilts Finish Intramural Program

Winners of Each of Three Leagues to Play for Championship

The tennis tournament, the final sport event of the women's intramurals program, is being played off with much enthusiasm, despite the delay caused by rain at the very outset. The games have now reached the semi-final stage, with the league winners scheduled to play off their matches during the latter part of this week.

In the first league Phi Beta Phi came through the victor, having defeated Phi Mu, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Chi Omega. The steady, consistent playing of Betsy Garrett and Midge Montgomery proved the downfall of their less experienced opponents. Playing in this league were Mary Louise Yauch and Dorothy Bates, Phi Mu; Rena Bernstein and Beatrice Oxenburgh, Phi Sigma Sigma; and Christine Spignul, Marguerite Thomas, and Inez Ingham, Chi Omega.

Two of the teams of the second league, Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Delta, have dropped from the tournament. The three remaining teams, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Kappa Delta, and Alpha Delta Pi, have just completed the preliminary rounds, with Alpha Delta Pi defeating all opponents, and thus earning its place in the semi-finals. Representing these sororities are Adele Apfel, Esther Ornstein, Alpha Epsilon Phi; Helen Jones, Ruth Allen, Beatrice Coleman, Maxine Duvel, Kappa Delta; and Kathleen Watkins, Louise Bruce, Alpha Delta Pi.

Although there remains one game to be played in league three, the laurels will undoubtedly go to Sigma Kappa. Its team, Elizabeth Carey and Pat May, showed their exceptional skill when they defeated the Tri-C, Alpha Delta Theta, and Kappa Kappa Gamma delegations. Mary Louise Braselton, Katherine Wassmann, Tri-C; Margaret Blackstone, Evelyn Iverson, Rosalie Palmer, Kappa Gamma Gamma; and Jessie Hardin, Katherine Stanton, Alpha Delta Theta, are playing in this league.

Von Lewinski Wins In Swimming Meet

Bunker Places Second in Women's Interclass Meet at Y. W. C. A.

Inge von Lewinski carried off the individual honors in the women's interclass swimming meet at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening, May 12, while Priscilla Bunker placed a close second.

Von Lewinski has been outstanding in aquatic events during her four years at the University, and has won the cup for individual points for two straight years. The events, in which she placed first were: form swimming, 40-yard single over-arm, and 40-yard back stroke. Bunker, also one of G. W.'s outstanding swimmers, won second honors by virtue of first place in the

Varsity Raquetters Complete Schedule With Four Settos

Team Seeks Wins Over St. John's, Johns Hopkins, Temple and Pittsburgh

Resulting from a rearrangement of the tennis schedule the program for next week is a very heavy one. After a meeting with St. Johns at Annapolis on Monday the team will journey to Baltimore on Wednesday to meet Johns Hopkins, and on Friday and Saturday they will entertain Temple University and Pittsburgh. These four matches conclude the schedule as it now stands.

Due to the inclement weather of the past week the matches scheduled for the Colonial tennis team were postponed. The one scheduled with St. Johns of Annapolis was set for yesterday, and the one with Baltimore University which was to have been played on May 12, will in all probability be dropped from the calendar.

So far the team has met with a fair amount of success. It was able to conquer Hampden-Sidney and St. Johns, but took defeats at the hands of Duke and St. Johns of Brooklyn. A fair judgment of the team cannot be made until the matches of this week are completed but it must suffice to say that if the team does not break on top each individual is entitled to a definite amount of credit.

Harry Goldsmith has played the number one position in all the matches, having played a consistently fine brand of tennis. Ivan Edwards, playing number two has been close on the heels of Goldsmith, and has only been surpassed in honors by the brilliant playing of Randy Robinson. Gable R. Sherfy, L. Sherfy, and Bennett have been close behind these boys in prowess on the courts, and the entire team is in line for success in its future matches.

40 and 80-yard free-style events. Others who placed in the various events added points to their class totals. Reynolds, Dillman, Symons, and Munroe carried away the diving honors. Crane placed in the 40-yard single over-arm; Dillman and Linkins in form swimming; Linkins and Young in the 40-yard back stroke; Crittenden and Young in the 80-yard free-style; and Crittenden and Crane in the 40-yard free-style.

The total team scores were: sophomores, 33; junior-seniors, 30; and freshmen, 1.

Inclement Weather Causes Postponing Of Baseball Games

Cancelled Contests Added to Regular Games Fill Week for Nines

Standing of Teams	W.	L.
Columbian Col.	6	0
Junior Col.	3	2
Pre-Meds	2	3
Engineers	1	4
Pharmacists	1	4

Rain throughout last week caused the postponement of all games in the Intramural League. The three cancelled contests will be played this week in conjunction with the regular scheduled games. On Monday the Pharmacists and the Junior College nine stage their play-off; on Thursday the Pre-Meds and the Engineers hook-up, while Saturday brings the Engineers and the Junior College aggregation together. The regular schedule for the week lists the Pre-Meds and the Columbians for Wednesday and the Pharmacists and the Pre-Meds for Friday. Although another week will be required to finish the series, this week's games will just about decide the final standings of the teams. The Columbian College nine apparently has first clinched. At present it's just a question of whether or not this team will go undefeated for the second straight year.

Despite the fact that each team has been soundly trounced by the leaders this only served to spur the under dogs on to greater efforts. They all swear vengeance and father the hope that at least one defeat will be charged up to the Columbians before the season draws to a close. Perhaps this week will bring an upset and see the tide holders suffer a loss. Anything can happen in baseball.

It might be well to analyze this Columbian aggregation and find out just what is responsible for their long string of victories. Their main strength is in two departments; pitching and batting. Perhaps the mound work excels the hitting.

In Hale Daniels and Heinie Weingartner Manager "Connie" Neitzger possesses two star players of the first water. These two men, turning in six wins between them, have been mighty stingy with their hits. In four games Daniels has averaged four hits per game while Weingartner averages one less in two battles. The latter's last appearance was a no-hit, no-run performance against the Juniors. This sensational effort is enough in itself to

Columbian Batters Strong
A glance at the batting leaders in the league speaks for the Columbians' strength. In no game have they gotten less than ten hits and for the most part these have been for extra bases. Jay Payne and Johnny Fenlon are tied for the batting title with the high mark of .571. Following them come Frank Blackstone with .524, "Otto" Zahn with .455, and Mulvey with .428.

Although bunching together against the Columbians, the four other teams are still fighting it out for the ranking positions in the league. Since their last meeting the Juniors are holding a one-game advantage over the Pre-Meds for second place in the race. Following the future Meds are the Engineers and the Pharmacists tied for the cellar, each with one victory and four defeats.

Only a slight margin separates the second place team from the cellarites which can be overcome in a week of fast playing. The Pre-Meds rose to their present station in a week in which they won two out of three games. If the Engineers and the Pre-Meds return to their best form during this siege of contests, surprising changes will be made in the standing of the teams.

Skill and Humor Exhibited by Greeks In Interfraternity Baseball Tourney

Included among the Interfraternity contests, which provide the stage for many exhibitions of skill and comedy is the baseball tournament. Each spring when the ground is beginning to thaw and the newspapers are commenting on the chances for the local team of winning the pennant, small groups of fraternity men can be seen tossing a ball around between classes as part of their preliminary training.

Usually seen during the next few days are signs denoting stiffness among these would-be ball players. This period usually continues for a week and then comes the first game when no one is in any condition to play. The game according to custom must be scheduled on the morning of a cold windy day so as to provide ample excuses for the caliber of play.

The scores of the first day's games are of the 25-19 sort, full of errors, comedy, and sometimes good play. As on some of the teams are good ball players, the games improve as the series continues, and some good baseball is exhibited.

Elected To Hatchet Board

VIVIAN MADIGAN POTTER

John T. Madigan, Gordon V. Potter, and John T. Vivian, who will compose the board of editors assisting C. Manley Fesler in the publication of The Hatchet next year.

Fesler Selected To Head Hatchet; Madigan, Potter, Vivian Comprise Balance of Board

torial duties he undertakes in this issue. A member of Sigma Chi Fraternity, elected president of the chapter for the coming year at a meeting last week, he has also been that organization's representative on the Interfraternity Council and has just completed a year's term as president of the Council. While enrolled in the School of Education last year Fesler organized the Education Club and was elected its first president. He counts membership in Gate and Key, honorary interfraternity society, among his other achievements.

The three members of the new associate board have served lengthy apprenticeships on The Hatchet. All were promoted to assistant editorships during the past year. Madigan handling copy, Potter make-up and Vivian headlines.

The retiring editor, Leo David, and his associate board, Marian Boyle, Cecile Harrington and Mary Weaver, have completed their publications activities in the University, at least for the time being. David and the Misses Harrington and Weaver are candidates for graduation next month.

An unusual feature of the new board is that for the first time in more years than can be remembered there is not one woman member. There is a possibility, however, that this will not be the case next fall, if further elections to the board are warranted.

Strenuous Activities Teach Bright Co-ed Benefit of Athletics

With a cry of pain the co-ed stopped in the midst of stretching and started to rub her arm.

What could be the matter? We went to inquire. Oh, of course, we might have known it. She had just played a little too much tennis, especially since it was the first time she had played this year, and she had played it up with a nice restful little game of baseball.

"Yes, I made a home-run," she explained proudly.

"You did? Gee, you must have hit the ball a long way."

"Well, to tell you the truth, I didn't. I hadn't meant to strike at the ball at all, but I couldn't get the bat out of the way. Then somebody said to run. The first baseman missed the ball, so I kept on running. When I got almost to the home plate, the catcher was holding the ball out towards me, but I slipped and fell across the plate, missing the ball entirely. I apologized for not taking the ball, but it was all right, because I had made a home run anyway. I think I'm going to be on the class team."

"Won't that be nice?" we said. "Congratulations!"

She trotted nonchalantly away on her high heels. And here we have been trying all our life to make a home run.

Ten thousand Canadian students, from McGill, Toronto, Queen's Western, British Columbia, and Alberta Universities, staged a disarmament petition to be laid before Premier Bennett.

Regardless of the caliber of play a good time is provided for both the players and spectators. Exhibitions of rare judgment on the part of the umpire, such as provided by Jerry Sickler, who when at the time a play was being made, was studying the blades of grass in preparation for a botany quiz, brought order out of chaos by casting his decision on the toss of a coin. Players hitting the ball for a potential home run only stumble on the bags on their journey and be thrown out at home, as Kriemelmeyer of Acadia. The Deltas possess the qualifications of the early stage ball player of having most of the tobacco chewers, as evidenced most loudly by Keller and Parrish. Honors for sartorial brilliance goes to the T.U.O. outfit, who are equipped with everything from top hat to knickers.

The teams playing at the eleven o'clock hour have the most feminine support as the nine o'clock hour is much too early for the eyes that have to retain their youthfulness.

Roller Skating Not A Sign of Lunacy, But Popular Sport

"Has the girl gone crazy? Has she become a premature victim of senile dementia, and is that why she's reverting to childish customs?"

What other conceivable explanation could the astonished spectators give who saw a George Washington co-ed blithely roller-skating down G street the other day? But a few days later they, too, were indulging in this once beloved sport. In fact, everybody's doing it.

Just take a drive along the Speedway some evening and see for yourself, old and young, male and female, slim and—alas!—not so slim, they bowl merrily along the green. There's even a section of the concrete walk roped off so they can skate to their merry heart's content without running the risk of bumping into other and staid promenaders. Indeed, rumor has it that this skater's paradise is to be extended all along the river's edge from the Memorial to the Point.

The moon, the river, a pair of skates—what a combination for a "date"! But here's a word of warning for you men who think you're getting off cheaply when the girl friend suggests a roller-skating jaunt instead of the movies—skating helps work up a lusty appetite in the frailest of females!

Diosdado Yap Wins Oratorical Conquest

E. Balonon and N. Donesia Win Second and Third Places, Respectively

Diosdado M. Yap, a graduate student of the School of Education, was a winner of the third annual oratorical contest sponsored by the Visayan Circle, the largest Philippine organization in the city with its oration, "In Justice to the Philippines." Second place was won by Ed. S. Balonon, and third place was taken by N. P. Donesia.

A gold medal was awarded to the winning orator by Dr. H. C. Moncade, president of the Philippine Federation of America. The board of judges which selected Yap unanimously, was composed of Dr. William Notz, dean of the School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University, Dr. Charles Pergler, dean of the Graduate School, National University, and former Minister to Japan from Czechoslovakia, and Dr. William C. Johnstone, assistant professor of political sciences, George Washington University.

The contestants in this contest represented such schools as the Golden Gate College of Law, San Francisco, California, Utah State University, Salt Lake City, Utah, National University, and the Catholic University of America.

In the ratings of the best ten Philipinians speakers in America, made by the "Three Stars," a Philippine paper published at Stockton, California, James G. Wingo, George Washington University graduate of 1930, and winner of the 1930 Isaac Davis public speaking contest here, and Yap were rated third and ninth respectively.

Aspiring Reporter Meets Difficulties In Seeking News

A young Hatchet reporter, whom we will allow to remain incognito, was given three professors to interview for her week's assignment. The first two, as usual, had no news. All her hopes, therefore, rested on that elusive third.

On her fourth trip to his office, she discovered a long-haired individual, with feet propped high upon the desk, whom she naturally took to be the person sought.

Reporter: "Professor Croissant?"
Long-haired individual (with a wry smile): "Professor Croissant is in Europe."

Reporter: "Oh! Er—does this department have any news for the Hatchet?"

Long-haired individual: "Nothing of interest has happened here since Professor Croissant sailed for London last February."

Baptist Organization Inaugurates Officers

Baptist Student Union Installs Richard Rollins as New President

Richard Rollins, a student in Columbian College, was installed as president of the Baptist Student Union to succeed Kathleen Watkins at a recent Sunday night service of the Metropolitan Baptist Church. Other new officers installed at the same time were as follows: Marx Huff, first vice president; Ruth Allen, second vice president; Leonard Baber, third vice president; Katherine Burnett, secretary; Bruce Fowler, treasurer; Kathleen Watkins, magazine correspondent; Evelyn Kerr, reporter.

This organization, according to Kathleen Watkins, expects to culminate the activities of the year by sending a delegation of forty to the annual eight day retreat, June 24 to July 1, in the Smoky Mountains near Asheville, North Carolina. Invitations have already been extended to the university representatives in seventeen states who will attend the retreat, to return with the George Washington group for a visit to the National Capital during the Bicentennial celebration.

Interesting Courses Offered to Students Preparing for Home Economics Degree

One of the most interesting departments of the University, the Home Economics Division, offers a bachelor of science degree from the School of Education after the completion of four years of college work. Every field connected with Home Economics is covered in preparation for this degree.

Food Selection and Food Preparation are only a part of the work for this degree. These courses are offered as service courses to any student in the University without prerequisites. In Food Selection the student studies her own needs as to nutritional requirements, the relation of food values, and their sources to meet this requirement. Food preparation gives the student the fundamentals of food selection in the markets, comparative cost, the care, storage of foods, as well as the principles involved in their preparation. The students prepare food in small quantities and are permitted to eat it in order that they may judge and score their products as to palatabilities and average servings.

In the Household Problems course the family food problems are studied under all conditions. Emphasis is placed on marketing, with special lectures and trips; food preservation, with lessons in home canning and preserving; the preparation of meals for various members of the family; and, finally, preparing and serving a meal to an invited group with all ages represented.

In practical application of the principles learned in the previous studies, the Lunch Room Management course offers the student the opportunity of doing quantity cooking. For the period of a month the student assists in serving a cafeteria lunch to George Washington University students. The part of the course dealing with catering prepares the would-be housewife for serving formal dinners, banquets, and teas.

The Dietetic course offers the opportunity to study, prepare and serve adequate diets for the treatment of various diseases.

Sigma Nu Defeats Kappa Sigs For Title in League B

four times at bat. Gleeson started on the mound for the Sigs but was removed in Sickler's favor after his disastrous start.

Score by innings:
D. T. D. 4 2 3 0 0 0—9
S. K. 0 0 1 0 0 0—1

Batteries: (D.T.D.) Pates and Keller; (S.K.) Gleeson, Sickler, Rote and Beekman.

The Phi Sigs had no trouble with the Theta Delta Chi baseball team, winning as they pleased, 17-3. Two hits, one off Dana Quarles and one off Monroe, were all the cellarites obtained, while the winners were pounding Fahrner for 16. Besides pitching good ball, Quarles got three hits in three trips to the plate. Ligon and Jackson for the Phi Sigs, and Backus for the losers stood out in a mediocre game.

Score by innings:
T. D. X. 0 0 0 0 2 1—3
P. S. K. 2 7 3 2 0 3—17

Batteries: (P. S. K.) Quarles, Monroe and Stehman; (T. D. X.) Fahrner and Backus.

Acacia got the jump on T. U. O. for a 9-3 victory. Helvestine scattered the losers' hits, while his teammates pounded Newland freely. Snowden's two hits led the hitting for the Masons. Ralph McCoy and C. Wildes were the highlights in the T. U. O. rally in the fifth which netted two runs.

Score by innings:
T. U. O. 0 0 0 0 2 1—3
Acacia 2 0 3 1 2 1—9

Batteries: (T. U. O.) Newland and Dryer; (Acacia) Helvestine and Walker.

S. A. E. won easily from S. P. E., 15-2. Good team play coupled with "Bull" Durham's excellent pitching spelled defeat for the Sig Eps from the beginning. Baker led the winners at bat getting four of the total 13 hits allowed by Link; Sullivan, S. P. E. backstop, topped his team's hitting with two hits. P. Sompayrac was the only other S. P. E. to get a hit. The longest clout made, a triple, by Harris, S. A. E. shortstop, scored Durham in the sixth.

Score by innings:
S. A. E. 3 2 0 4 3 3—15
S. P. E. 0 0 0 2 0 0—2

Fine Arts Sophomore Only Amateur Soloist at Concert

Ether L. Linger, a sophomore in the Division of Fine Arts, presented a mandolin solo at a concert given by the American Guild of Mandolinists, Banjoists, and Guitarists, at the Washington Hotel, May 12.

Miss Linger was the only non-professional among the soloists, all of whom were selected because of outstanding ability. The concert was a feature of the annual convention of the guild, which includes all well-known professional players throughout the United States and Canada. Miss Linger has been heard frequently over the radio and on numerous concert programs in the city.

Chi Sigma Gamma Pledges To Give Party for Actives

The pledges of Chi Sigma Gamma will give a party for the active chapter on Saturday, May 21. Sally Harrison, president of the pledge group, is in charge of all arrangements. The affair will be in the form of a baby party and will be the last social gathering of the sorority for the year.

At the last meeting of Chi Sigma Gamma, Judith Steele gave a paper on "The Quinhydrone Electrode." The group had as its guest Miss Doyle, from the Department of Industrial Chemical Exposition of the National Museum. Miss Doyle spoke concerning her work and the work of her department.

Chi Sigma Gamma is a chemical honorary sorority and is for the purpose of encouraging women in the field of chemistry.

The building is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Antique, sketching, water color, illustration, and life classes are represented in the exhibit. The display will continue until May 15.

Nebraska University Secures Ragatz' Aid In Summer Session

Lowell Joseph Ragatz, associate professor of history at George Washington University, will join the staff of the University of Nebraska Summer Sessions for the eight week course which that institution is offering this year. Professor Ragatz will give courses in International Relations, Modern Imperialism, and a seminar on Humanitarianism.

Strangely enough, Professor Ragatz will again have for his teaching fellow this summer Mr. A. B. Sageser, who is at present getting his doctor's degree at Nebraska, and who was Professor Ragatz's teaching fellow while studying here last year.

The University of Nebraska has invited several visiting instructors of national prominence to teach during the summer sessions, and in obtaining Dr. Ragatz, the administration, according to the Nebraska catalog, feels they have secured "a distinguished scholar, author, editor, and a recognized authority on European colonial expansion."

We know why men smoke PIPES

WOMEN don't smoke pipes. They're not the style for women. But pipes are the style for men. More than that, a pipe and good tobacco gives a man greater smoking pleasure than tobacco in any other form.

In 42 out of 54 American colleges and universities Edgeworth is the favorite pipe tobacco. Cool slow-burning burleys give this fine tobacco exactly the character that college men like best of all.

Try a tin of Edgeworth yourself! You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold. Or if you prefer, you can get a special sample packet free: write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va., and ask for it.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural flavor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive eleven-step process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 25¢ packet package to $1.35 pound humidifier tin.

Medical School To Reorganize

School of Medicine Goes on University Basis in Fall Term

Faculty Has Been Completely Reorganized and Many Additions Made

Culminating a series of developments that already have carried the Medical School to a high ranking among institutions of its kind throughout the country, the beginning of the academic year next September will mark the establishment of the School of Medicine on a university basis, it was announced by the Administration last week.

A complete reorganization of faculty and teaching staff has been effected in the School of Medicine during the past year, and many full time additions have been made. The caliber of these men serves to further enhance the prestige of the school in the field of medical education.

Ample facilities for the most modern methods of teaching and scientific research and a substantial increase in equipment will be at the disposal of medical students in the University with the opening of school in September.

The new laboratory building adjoining the present structure has been completed and will be ready for occupancy in the fall. This new building, having 10,000 square feet of floor space, will house a modern central laboratory serving University Hospital Clinical Departments, and another laboratory completely equipped for the teaching of clinical microscopy, each under the supervision of a full time director. In addition to private offices and individual laboratories for the staff, there will be a large section devoted to teaching for the Departments of Bacteriology, Hygiene and Preventive Medicine. Quarters for animals of all kinds will be located on the fourth floor connecting with the Department of Pathology.

Until the new Medical Center becomes available, it is proposed to continue the School of Medicine in its present location. During this time the organization of the various departments, personnel and scientific laboratories will be perfected in view of moving the institution into its new home. The old building will be almost entirely remodeled this summer and the various existing departments will be moved so as to connect with related sections in the new building.

Under the present arrangements it is planned to locate the Department of Anatomy on the fifth floor of the old building; the Department of Pathology will be on the fourth floor; the third floor has been set aside for the Department of Biochemistry; the Departments of Physiology and Pharmacology, and the medical library, under the supervision of a trained librarian, will occupy the second; and on the first floor will be a large locker room and a lounge for students.

An addition to the University Hospital has reached the blueprint stage and construction will begin some time this month. The second floor of this building will house the dispensary, doubling the size of the present one. On the first floor will be located the Department of Radiology. Full time operation of this service is anticipated by the first of September.

Student Democrats Convention Planned

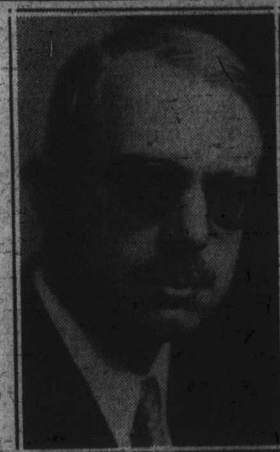

Speakers' Congress Schedules Meeting Open to University Students

A mock Democratic National Convention, under the auspices of the Speakers' Congress, is scheduled to take place Monday, May 23, at 2 p. m. in room 10, building W. The meeting will be open to students of the University.

The plans of the committee for this convention are to have student representation from the various states. At the meeting on Monday, a keynote address, election of permanent chairman, and nomination speeches, a procedure similar to that of the National Democratic Convention will take place. The mock convention of the Democratic Party has been chosen because of the abundant stock of potential presidential timber in the University at large.

Grant Van Demark, chairman of the committee for the convention, will act as the keynote. Following the election of a permanent chairman for the convention, nomination speeches will be made by the following: For student choice of candidate of Democratic Party: Roosevelt, of N. Y., by Elizabeth Reeves, of New Mexico; Garner, of Texas, by Gilbert Linville, of Maryland; Smith, of N. Y., by Dewitt Bennett, of Oregon; Ritchie, of Maryland, by James Littlefield, of Indiana; Ray, of Oklahoma, by H. B. Baker, of Oklahoma; a dark horse, by Seymour M. Baker, of Missouri.

Pharmacy Students Guests Of Manufacturing Company

Twenty students of the School of Pharmacy, under the supervision of Dean William Paul Briggs, have recently returned from a visit to Philadelphia, where they were the guests of Sharpe and Dohme Company, pharmaceutical manufacturers. They also visited the biological department of this company, situated just outside of Philadelphia.

Careful observation and expert explanations were made regarding the manufacture and use of mouth antiseptics, which included several new preparations to appear on the market in the near future. At the biological department a study was made of diphtheria and small-pox antitoxins.

Acacia Society Celebrates Anniversary of Founding

The George Washington Chapter of Acacia celebrated the twenty-eighth anniversary of the fraternity's founding at a banquet at the Willard Hotel on Saturday evening. Over seventy Acacians, representing seventeen of the fraternity's chapters, were present.

"Rogues' Gallery" Becomes Officials' Latest Inspiration

"Name, please? Did you send in your photograph? Hmm—had your hair bleached since then, eh? Looks enough like you though, I guess. O. K. next, please."

No, that speech was not made by a New York passport official. It is merely a prophecy of what will probably take place when the University of Chicago examinations begin this June. The latest wrinkle in regulations at the Windy City University requires students who wish to take the June examinations to submit photographs in advance.

Ten Men Appointed To Medical School Staffs of Instruction

Faculty Will Be Closer Knit, Functioning Through Its Committees

Under the re-organization of the School of Medicine the faculty will become a close-knit unit, composed of the executive officer from each department, together with an elected member of the teaching staff from each department. Departments are under the control of their executive officers, and the faculty will function through its committees. Several new appointments have been made to the faculty and teaching staff, one Sabbatical leave has been granted in the Department of Bio-Chemistry to Joseph Hiram Roe, Ph.D.

Ten additions to the full-time personnel have been made. They are: Department of Physiology, Erritt Cyril Albritton, A.B., M.D., professor and executive officer of the department; Chester E. Leese, Ph.D., assistant professor; George Brewer, A.B., M.D., instructor; Department of Bio-Chemistry, Vincent du Vigneaud, Ph.D., professor and executive officer of the department; Department of Bacteriology, Hygiene, and Preventive Medicine, Roscoe Roy Spencer, M.D., associate professor; Leonard W. chemistry, bacteriology, physiology, pathology, and pharmacology, have also been appointed for the ensuing year. There still remain three other instructorships in the fundamental departments yet to be appointed. All the new appointments were carefully selected for their particular abilities in their chosen fields. Nearly all of them have been associated with the National Research Council, the Rockefeller Foundation, or the United States Public Health Service.

Philippine Students Hosts To International Society

Representatives of the Philippines in the International Students' Society of the George Washington University, headed by Cayetano C. Nagac, founder of the society, were hosts to the members at an informal reception held last Sunday evening at Lambie House.

One of the features of the evening was short speeches by the members in their native tongues, fifteen languages in all, interpreted by a "Ready-made polyglot" into plain English. Native songs of the members were sung, and Mrs. Bessie Wilkerson played several piano selections. The program was concluded by the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Throughout the entire evening the international friendship and understanding for which the society was organized prevailed.

DO YOU INHALE?

Certainly...

7 out of 10 smokers inhale knowingly... the other 3 inhale unknowingly

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten smokers know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this much-avoided subject... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.
